

For Immediate Release
Contact: Clare Hertel
Clare@ClareHertelCommunications.com
505-670-3090

The Seventh Annual Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe Welcomes Showgoers Back in Person and Online Through a New Virtual Platform

El Museo Cultural de Santa Fe will again host the annual in-person show after taking a year off due to the pandemic

Santa Fe, NM—The Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe returns to El Museo Cultural de Santa Fe this August after a year off because of COVID. Besides the in-person show, August 17 through 20, the producers are also offering a virtual edition to the fair for the first time, on a new platform designed specifically for their shows. The virtual show will run from August 9 through 31.

The most anticipated show and sale of historic Native American material of the summer art season brings together the world's most knowledgeable experts in American Indian art and thousands of select historic art objects from Indigenous cultures throughout North America, including basketry, jewelry, textiles, kachinas, sculptures, pottery, and much more.

Walt Borton of Antiques and the Arts Weekly wrote in a story right after the last show, in 2019, "The Antique American Indian Art Show is, after just five years, making a strong argument for stature as one of the most important shows of its kind in the world."

This year expect exciting material from the curated show, including dozens of highly respected field expert/dealers, including James Flurry, Art Blackburn, and Terry DeWald. John C. Hill Antique Indian Arts and John Krena's Four Winds Gallery will again present exquisite pottery, jewelry, objects, and important textiles.

“We are so pleased to welcome people back to the show in person,” said John Morris, co-producer of the fair. “This show overlaps with Santa Fe’s world-famous Indian Market, which features contemporary work. Having our historic material available for showgoers to see and buy, and for them to also be able to experience some of the best contemporary work at the Indian Market, makes Santa Fe the place to be in August if you’re interested in this material.”

ANTIQUÉ AMERICAN INDIAN ART SHOW VIRTUAL EDITION

This year for the first time, the Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe will include a virtual edition for those who cannot attend the live in-person show. There will be an expanded group of exhibitors presenting material on a new state-of-the-art virtual platform, which is designed to be easy for both exhibitors and collectors to navigate.

“We are really excited to offer a virtual edition. It allows collectors from all over the world to participate and purchase works,” said Kim Martindale, co producer of the show. “We did our first virtual shows in February with our San Francisco fairs and it was a huge success. Now we’ve built a new and improved platform just for our shows that is very user-friendly. We hope everyone will check it out this summer.”

The Virtual Antique American Indian Art Show Santa Fe will run from Monday, August 9, through Tuesday, August 31.

SHOW DETAILS

LIVE IN-PERSON SHOW

2021 BENEFIT PREVIEW: Thursday, August 17, 4 p.m.–7 p.m. MDT
Cost: $35* (allows entry for run of show)

*Due to state guidelines, at this time, beverages and hors d’oeuvres will not be served. If guidelines eventually allow for hors d’oeuvres and cocktails, the ticket cost will change.

SHOW DAYS: Friday–Sunday, August 18–20, 11 a.m.–5 p.m. MDT
Cost: $15 ($25 Run of Show)

LOCATION:

El Museo Cultural de Santa Fe
In the Railyard
Santa Fe, NM

ANTIQUÉ AMERICAN INDIAN ART SHOW SANTA FE VIRTUAL SHOW

VIRTUAL BENEFIT PREVIEW: Monday, August 9, 1 p.m.-7 p.m. MDT

Cost: $25

VIRTUAL SHOW DAYS: Tuesday August 10: Opens at 11 a.m. MDT and runs through Wednesday, August 31, at midnight MDT

Cost: Free

For a list of exhibitors visit <https://antiqueindianartshow.com>. For more information, photos and interview requests, please contact Clare Hertel at 505-474-6783 or clare@clarehertelcommunications.com.

***